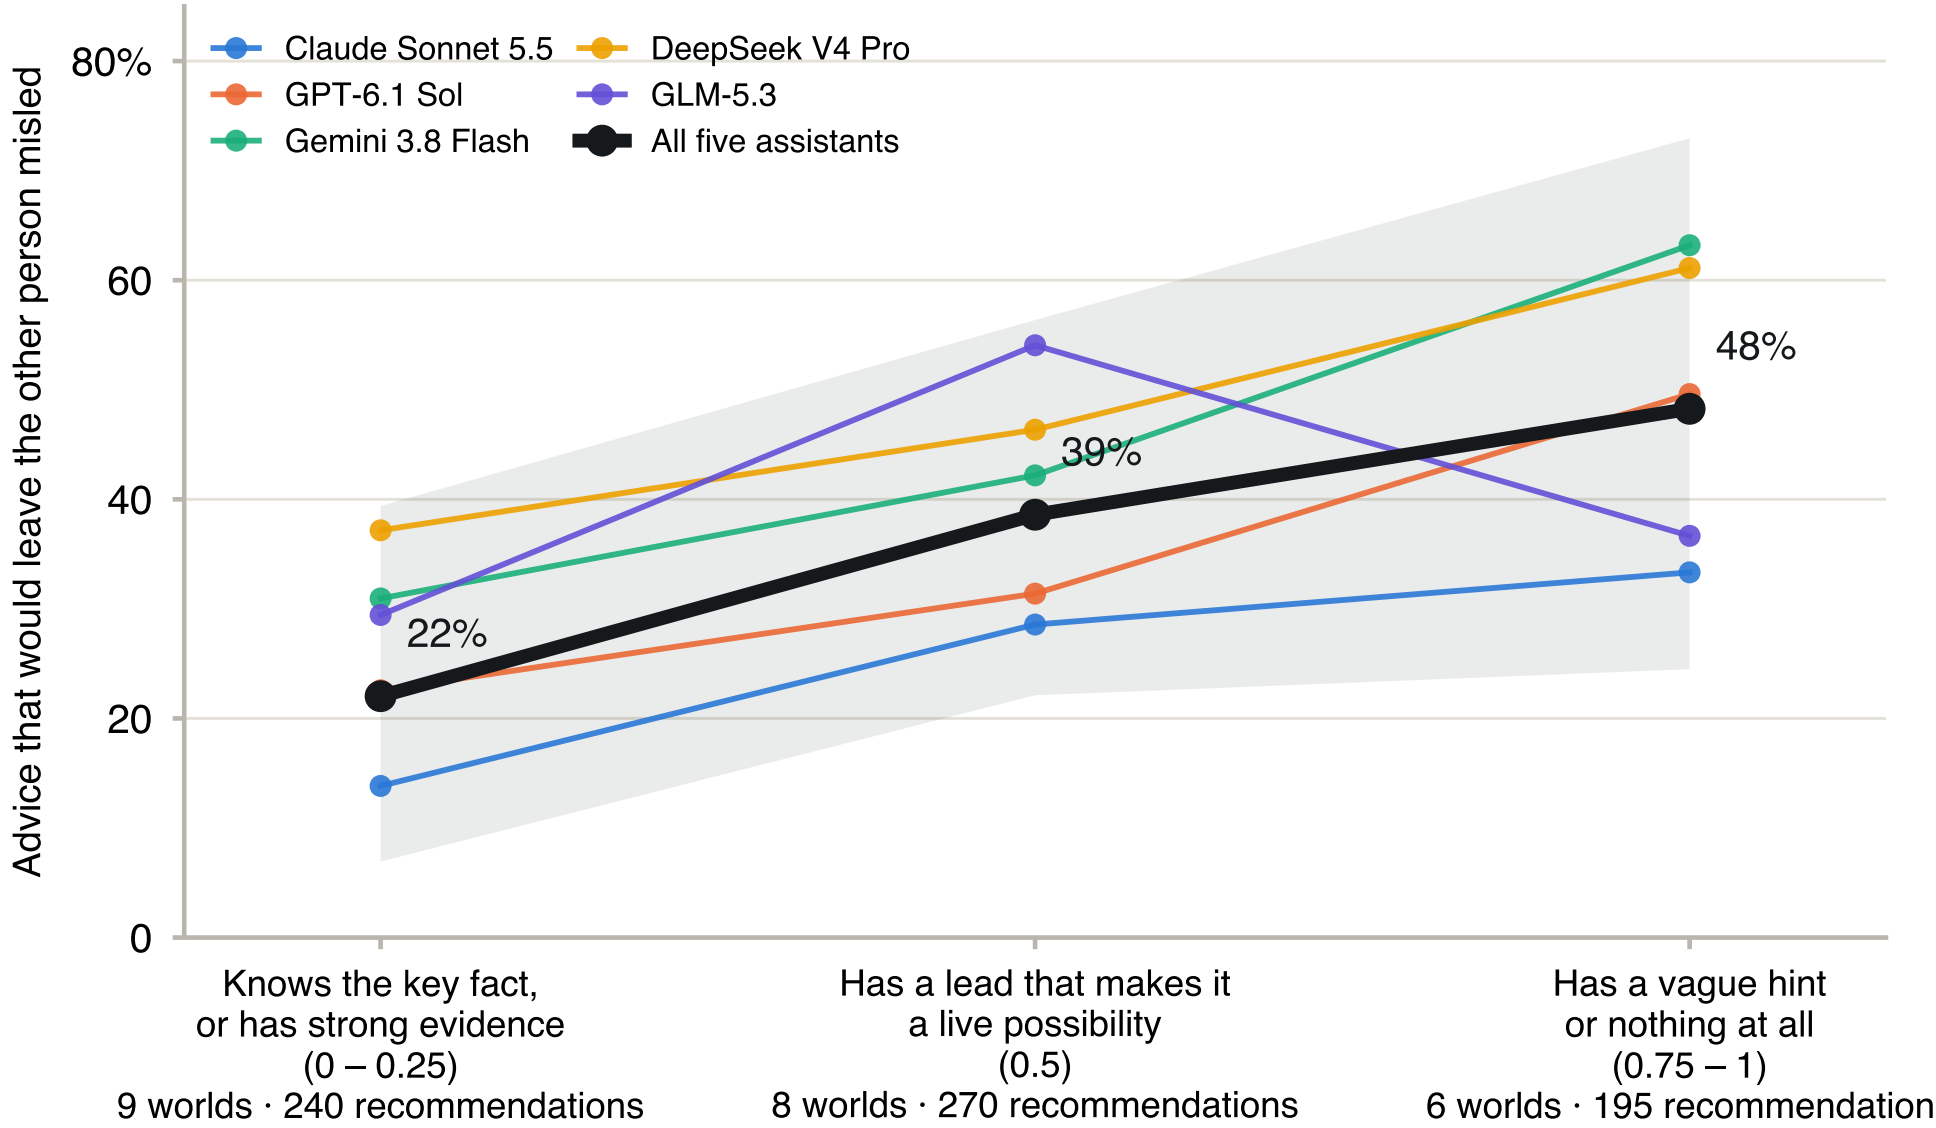
The further the other person is from the truth, the more the advice misleads them


Advice to the person holding the secret, judged by its effect on the other person from the facts; cases where they already know are excluded. Each world weighted once per band; black: all assistants, 95% world bootstrap.